

This photograph shows Gen. John J. Pershing on his way to Havre, bearing the Congressional Medal of Honor to be presented to the Unknown Soldier of France at a ceremonial beneath the Memorial Arch in Paris, Oct. 2.

Underwood & Underwood.

President Harding had an enjoyable day on the Piping Rock golf links although he and his partner, Howard W. Whitney, were defeated by J. Leonard Replogle and Percy R. Pyne, 2d. Mr. Whitney is standing next to the President, with Mr. Pyne and Mr. Replogle in the order named.

Underwood & Underwood.

Mrs. Harding walking with Mrs. John T. Pratt at the Piping Rock Club, Long Island.

Underwood & Underwood.

Many well known men took part in the tournament of the Seniors' Golf Association at Apawamis. Paired in this picture are, from left to right, Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life, and T. G. Bell of Richmond.

International.

Charles D. Cooke of Arcola scored 79 for a round at Apawamis in the Seniors tournament and an 83 on the day before, giving him a total of 162 before deducting his handicap of 6.

International.

Above — English newspapers have been agitated lately over the question whether Mr. Lloyd George could be properly described as "dressy." This unusual photograph may help to decide.

Underwood & Underwood.

James F. Fahnestock, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was one of the players in the Seniors tournament at Apawamis.

International.

At left—This is the Roosevelt memorial tablet dedicated at Hinckley, Me. A speaker at the ceremony was "Bill" Sewall, one of Col. Roosevelt's staunch friends.

Underwood & Underwood.